Art has the power to attract and to inspire. It promotes a sense of well-being and confers identity. The right piece or collection of art can transform any working or living environment. Art Contact has the know-how to help you harness the potential of art to enhance and exploit your location to the full, whether the space is public or private, urban or rural, dedicated to business, leisure, health or for the benefit of the local community.

"Art Contact's skills lie in exceptional project management, art selection and client communication, all of which have helped to make the whole process of choosing suitable artwork for our office space an enjoyable and inspirational experience."

KEIRAN FERGUSON
Director, Facilities and Operations,
International Gilead Sciences

"Virginia Grub of Art Contact has advised us in relation to the choice of art for our 140,000 sq. ft. building. She reviewed our existing art and, working with myself and our Art Committee, advised on the art which we should keep and then organized the procurement of about 30 additional works, mostly from young up and coming artists. Throughout the process Virginia was proactive and extremely helpful, listening to our views and, whilst giving invaluable guidance, coming up with suggestions that reflected our perception of how we wanted out premises to look."

GORDON JACKSON
Project Director, Taylor Wessing

Art Contact provides full planning and project management services together with an experienced in-house support team to take care of display/framing, security, delivery and installation. We also advise clients about sources of funding.
